Your stay in Grenadois Country

Shaped by a predominant natural channel, the Adour, the 11 towns in the Pays Grenadois will be delighted to host you.

Thanks to its geographic location, its history and the will of its people, this region offers a wide array of tourist attractions, in terms of heritage, culture and the environment, including but not limited to the fortified town of Grenade-sur-l'Adour, Notre-Dame du Rugby Chapel and its exhibition space in Larrivière-Saint-Savin, the Course Landaise Museum and Chapel in Bascons and the Saligues de l'Adour nature site spread across the towns of Bordères-et-Lamensans and Cazères-sur-l'Adour.

Many activities are scheduled all year long in partnership with nature guides from the Landes Departmental Council, the Institution Adour and the Seignanx & Adour Environmental Initiatives Centre.

Three weekly markets set the rhythm each year, taking place each Monday, Wednesday and Saturday. Six hiking loops run across the Pays Grenadois. In terms of leisure activities, local associations offer canoeing excursions on the Adour and horse rides.

Throughout this guide, we have endeavoured to provide you with the richest, most reliable information possible in all the areas which may be of use to you.

Cultural heritage

Grenade-sur-l'Adour...

The fortified town of Grenade was named after the city of Granada in the south of Spain. The same principle applies to Grenade-sur-Garonne, Geaune (in reference to Genoa, Italy) and Barcelone-du-Gers (after its Spanish counterpart, Barcelona).

At that time, the Moors occupied only the small Kingdom of Granada which would be reconquered in the 15th century. The bestowing of this name is therefore a reference to the Reconquista, the Christian reconquest of Spain.

Jeanne-Marie FRITZ, Doctor of Mediaeval History.

FORTIFIED TOWN OF GRENADE-SUR-L'ADOUR

Founded in 1322, this fortified town was first occupied by the English until 1442. Certain street names still bear witness to that past : Rue des Fossés (Moat St.), Rue des Remparts (Rampart St.) and Rue du Chemin de Ronde (Wall Walk St.). Around the central square with its canopies and arcades, you will see old houses dating from the 14th and 15th centuries. From the bridge over the Adour, you can admire the highly picturesque view of the old houses with their wooden balconies lining the river.

A walking trail dotted with six information panels ; accompanying booklet available from the Tourist Office.

St-Amand Chapel in Bascons

The small St-Amand Chapel was built in 1946 on the site of a well whose "miraculous" water cured the pellagra epidemic which was then ravaging Gascony. The chapel is topped with a campanile with three bells representing the religion and the devotion of the village to the parish's patron saint.

ST-AMAND CHURCH IN BASCONS

St-Amand Parish Church, a listed historical monument, is one of the most beautiful churches in the Landes. It was partially burnt down during the Wars of Religion and still retains multiple traces of the old fortified castle :

a watchtower, a bartizan (watch-turret) and arrow slits. Over and above that imposing architecture, it boasts many points of interest : a bell gable with five bells, a flamboyant Gothic great door, three large multicoloured statues from the 18th century, three 17th and 18th century altarpieces and a pulpit dating from the 18th century incorporating elements from the era of Louis XIII. Can be visited during services.

CAZÈRES-SUR-L'ADOUR CHURCH

This Romanesque church, with its parish attached to La Castelle Abbey, was altered multiple times over the centuries. It possesses a remarkable 18th century altarpiece made of gilded sculpted wood and encompassing two impressive paintings. The church bell, dating from 1750, is a listed historical monument. Can be visited during services.

ST-PIERRE & ST-PAUL DU MARSAN CHURCH IN GRENADE-SUR-L'ADOUR

This church stands on the edge of the central square in the fortified town of Grenade. A listed historical monument, it dates from the 14th century. It has two towers built in 1833 and a beautiful Gothic great door. The interior makes a curious impression as the altar is not lined up in the central nave. The church boasts multiple features on the list of historical monuments, some of which came from La Castelle Abbey: a sculpted wooden pulpit from the early 18th century, an 18th century communion table, an altarpiece dating from the 18th century and a remarkable 17th century painting depicting a descent from the cross. The church also possesses other paintings of great interest. Open daily from 9 am to 6 pm.

ST-JEAN-BAPTISTE CHURCH IN LUSSAGNET

St-Jean-Baptiste Church was originally built in the Romanesque style but was heavily modified over the centuries. It possesses a most remarkable tabernacle and altarpiece on the list of historical monuments. It also features gorgeous 18th century décor : colonnades, statues and bas-reliefs. Can be visited during services.

LAMENSANS CHAPEL IN BORDÈRES-ET-LAMENSANS

This edifice built on a balcony overlooking the Adour Valley offers visitors an impressive view. The original chapel was erected in the 12th century. It underwent many a transformation over the centuries, that can be seen on its outside walls. Pay close attention as you walk around its exterior for a moment of real architectural poetry. Inside, you will find a 17th century funeral litre, 18th century wall decorations and ancient coats of arms. A deep sense of serenity pervades this mystical place. Not open to the public.

SAINT-MAURICE-SUR-ADOUR CHURCH

This flamboyant Gothic church dates back to the 16th century. Its remarkable great door and onion shaped bell tower are particularly noteworthy. Inside are two very interesting paintings, as well as two statues and a Renaissance baptismal font. Can be visited during services.

REGIONAL CURIOSITIES

GUILLAY MEGALITH IN LARRIVIÈRE-SAINT-SAVIN

This majestic megalith made of local sandstone is a listed historical monument. The stone bears primitive engravings : a deer as well as a cart with wheels, axle and shaft.

POTTERY OF CASTANDET

A village of potters whose first pottery dates from 1834. Thanks to its famous clay and marl, Castandet experienced intensive activity from the early 19th to the mid-20th century. A single kiln remains to mark that past. For more information : +33 (0)5 58 44 06 55.

JEAN DE LAHOURTIQUE ARENA IN BASCONS

Architect Franck Bonnefous drew up the plans for the arena which was then built in pine wood by volunteers from the village. It bears the name of Jean de Lahourtique, whose portrait (by Cel Le Gaucher) hangs above the entryway. The arena is a listed historical monument.

« MARCHE CAZÉRIENNE »

The “Marche Cazérienne” is an anthem to the course landaise, a sport in which competitors try to avoid the horns of bulls. It owes its name to its birthplace, the town of Cazères-sur-l’Adour. Composed in 1900 by Fernand Tassine, founder of the orchestra in Mont-de-Marsan, with lyrics written by Georges Randé in 1906. The instrumental version of the hymn is performed on the terraces of arenas and at village fêtes.

Watch and listen to it at the Tourist Office.

Natural heritage

NATURE SITES

SALIGUES DE L'ADOUR IN BORDÈRES-ET-LAMENSANS AND CAZÈRES-SUR-L'ADOUR

Saligues de l'Adour is a regional nature site known for its characteristic wetlands flora and fauna. The meanderings of the Adour have bred special vegetation linked to the instability of wetlands : underwater meadows, many species of shrubs, particularly the willows (saules in French) which lent their name to Saligues. The diverse ecosystem is home to a great wealth of wildlife preserved in a quiet zone : birdlife (many migratory and sedentary species), land animals (species typical of this type of environment like nutria and polecats, as well as rarer creatures like otters) and aquatic animals (European pond turtles, natterjack toads, etc.).

A path dotted with information panels and a sensory experience allows the public to walk alongside the quiet zone and explore the site, especially the lake at Cazères-sur-l'Adour. Accessible from Bordères-et-Lamensans or Cazères-sur-l'Adour. Car parks and picnic tables on site.

BIRDLIFE OBSERVATORY IN BASCONS

Observatories nestled all round the reservoir on the Ruisseau des Longs stream in Bascons are a great opportunity to watch the particularly interesting wildlife there. The environment is also remarkable for its rich variety of plantlife.

LAVEYRON NATIONAL FOREST IN LUSSAGNET

This forest is in the process of regenerating (after the storm of 2009), monitored and managed by the National Forest Office (ONF). It is home to rare and remarkable plantlife : beech, ash and oak trees, to name but a few. It also contains some protected species of flowers which are characteristic of wetlands : marsh St John's wort, anemone, scilla and more. You will be able to get close to the marshland at certain points.

The Adour...

Although it is mostly invisible, the Adour River is a vital component of the Pays Grenadois as it serves as a "border" of our small region, running past the towns of Cazères-sur-l'Adour, Bordères-et-Lamensans, Grenade-sur-l'Adour, Larrivière-Saint-Savin and Saint-Maurice-sur-Adour.

This river flowing down from the Upper Pyrenees is still wild in this part of the Landes and can really only be navigated by canoe or kayak.

You can spot it from the bridges in Cazères-sur-l'Adour and Grenade-sur-l'Adour, explore it at the Saligues nature site in Bordères-et-Lamensans and Cazères-sur-l'Adour (a vast area where the Adour meanders, giving rise to specific plantlife and wildlife), or follow its course along the developed riverbanks in Grenade-sur-l'Adour and Cazères-sur-l'Adour or certain hiking trails.

The teams at the Tourist Office will be happy to guide you in your exploration of the Adour.

LAKES

A body of water which receives various species of migratory birds visible from the observatory. This forest-lined spot is ideal for hiking and exploring this natural environment. The jetty is closed during the birds' mating seasons.

PEYROT LAKE IN MAURRIN

In the heart of a municipal forest spanning 13 hectares of land, this body of water is a special place for walking, fishing and watching a very wide variety of birdlife (ducks, wading birds, etc.).

LANDES

LE MEILLEUR EST À L'INTÉRIEUR

In 2015, the Greater Mont-de-Marsan, Chalosse Tursan and Pays Grenadois Tourist Offices decided to unite forces to allow you to discover the Landes in a different way.

Although the department's coastal reputation is well-established, we know the Inner Landes area also has much to offer: fine food, heritage, events, supersized nature, and the list goes on.

Between a tourist webzine, a blog of outings and great deals, we are committed to keeping you informed and helping you to explore our many treasures in an engaged AND engaging way.

We are a team of seven extreme (or almost) reporters who aim above all to reach readers beyond our borders. Each week, we will be here, sharing our long-time favourites, our latest impulses and top spots to satisfy your appetites.

From Mont-de-Marsan to Saint-Sever, by way of Le Tursan, Hagetmau and Grenade-sur-l'Adour, Amandine, Carine, Claire and Loïc invite you to visit www.landes-interieures.fr and the Facebook page @landesinterieures to learn all about their great deals, suggested outings, new encounters and great places to eat (in French).

UNE SOIRÉE D'ÉTÉ AU MARCHÉ

Claire a testé pour vous une Marché de Producteurs de Pays. Un rendez-vous estival incontournable pour tous les gourmands.

ON A TESTÉ LA SCANDIBÉRIQUE

Marjorie, Amandine et Carine ont testé la Scandibérique entre Mont de Marsan et St Perdon. Elles ont pris leur vélo et arpenté les sentiers des Landes.

TOP 8 DES SPOTS À PIQUE-NIQUE

Nous vous avons sélectionné les meilleurs endroits pour pique-niquer en Landes Intérieures avec les beaux jours qui sont de retour !
